CompreFit® - TH

The CompreFit® Universal, introduced in 2006, has experienced extremely positive reception from clinicians nationally. The unique properties of non-elastic compression allows the Comprefit® to provide a high working pressure (30-40 mmHg), while also providing a low resting pressure, making it ideal for day use and safe for night use. It is extremely durable, as well as easy to use and clean.

Many physicians prefer the Comprefit® to high compression elastic stockings for their patients.

Adjustable

The innovative, Patent Pending design offers up to 4" (10cm) of circumferential adjustability. The length can also be adjusted up to 1" (2.5cm). Only a few measurements are needed to determine the correct size, with optional regular or tall lengths available.

The interlocking and overlapping strap design makes it easy to achieve consistent, gradient compression. The unique StrapKeeper™ feature aids garment handling and use.

- Large, easy to use straps
- Straps overlap for "gauranteed gradient" compression
- Includes soft, 4-way stretch neoprene CompreBoot®

Economical

CompreFit® garments cost substantially less than other compression garments. considering the expected life of a CompreFit® is 2-3 times that of bandages, the cost of CompreFit® garments is lower than bandage wrapping. The CompreFit® saves time by eliminating wrapping/ re-rolling!

- Lymphedema
- Post-surgical swelling
